Holiday Greetings from RCTQ

RCTQ is grateful for the continuing partnerships and new projects that came in 2021 as we transitioned to the new normal ways of conducting work. Although confronted by challenges like every other organization, the year provided the RCTQ team with unique opportunities to be reflective and creative in achieving its targets, while finding avenues to help improve teacher quality in the context of these challenges.

Thank you to all that we have worked with in 2021. We wish everyone happy holidays as we take a much-needed break, and hope for a healthier and prosperous New Year 2022.
