As DepEd renews its focus on upgrading education quality, the strengthening of the professional training and development at the school level of our nearly a million teachers is urgent and necessary.

By collaborating with RCTQ in developing higher-order thinking skills (HOTS) learning packages, we are jointly helping teachers and school leaders to continuously reflect on and work closely together during their learning action cells (LAC) and in-service training. The ultimate goal is to improve the teaching practice, and enable teachers to develop their learners' HOTS so that these learners can succeed academically and thrive in their future endeavors.

HOTS PLPs will support teachers to teach better – NEAP OIC Director

The National Educators Academy of the Philippines (NEAP) is currently undertaking a national training of trainers (NTOT) in Cebu City for over 1,600 DepEd school leaders who will roll out across our public schools the Higher Order Thinking Skills – Professional Learning Packages (HOTS-PLPs) that RCTQ helped develop. NEAP OIC Director Dr.

Jennifer Lopez explains why the resource packages will "help teachers teach better."
